

IN THE DAWN OF THE NEW YEAR THAT HOLDS
So much of promise to every honest worker in every line of activity, from the laborer to the most brilliant financier, let us strive to do our best a little better than ever before. Our first and foremost resolution for 1929—Do it better. That one final touch marks the difference between success and failure. Thousands struggle along to the top of the hill and fall back to defeat one step short of victory. Do it better.

DEQUIN, Jan. 10.—A disastrous gas explosion, in which twenty-five men lost their lives, occurred at an early hour this morning in Joseph Leiter's famous colliery at Zeigler. A spark from a trolley pole of an electric motor coming into contact with a pocket of gas is believed as the cause of the explosion.

The Americans killed in the explosion included thirteen above named and eight bodies remain in the mine.

Mr. Leiter personally conducted the first relief party into the mine. The lone survivor of the explosion was an Italian youth, who escaped harm.

An expert, who had been experimenting with the gases in the mines at Zeigler, said he had placed the mine in a safe position to be operated.

The men were engaged in clearing away the debris caused by the recent explosion in the mine, and it was expected that operations would be resumed this week after two months' suspension.

Mrs. Leiter Assisted.
The bodies taken from the mine are badly burned and identification is difficult. Twenty-six men entered the mine on the night shift and the names of the victims are taken from the payroll.

The explosion was peculiar. No noise or shock was heard or felt at the opening of the shaft, only a puff of smoke being noticeable. The engineer noticed the smoke and realizing that an accident had occurred summoned aid.

The mine had recently been on fire and the flames had been sealed and confined to workings which were not in the vicinity of the present explosion.

Mrs. Leiter assisted her husband in quieting the widows and orphans who crowded about the mine. She furnished food and blankets to the men while they were attempting to recover the bodies.

The day was bitterly cold, but Mrs. Leiter was foremost in comforting the widows.

The coroner has adjourned the hearing until tomorrow. The mine was put in operation in 1903 and soon after labor troubles began. In April, 1905, an explosion in the mine killed fifty-one men.

The interior of the mine was not damaged nor were the top works, and there is scarcely any trace of the explosion which proved most deadly to the men working below.

Joseph Husband, an intimate friend of Mr. Leiter, who has been the latter's secretary for years, said that he was with the body of the late mine owner when he was with considerable difficulty revived.

GOVERNMENT MEASURES ARE READILY ADOPTED

ROME, Jan. 10.—The special meeting of the chamber of deputies, which was called to consider measures of relief for the devastated provinces of northern Italy, was marked by expressions of sympathy and grief over the recent disaster.

The government's relief measures which were entrusted to the parliamentary committee were adopted by a vote of 406 to 5. The dissenting votes were greeted by howls and hisses, while prolonged applause followed the announcement of the results.

Some of the members, who participated in the rescue, criticized the relief organization, especially the decision of the government to entrust it to the military authorities.

Premier Giolitti declared that the military have never asked that a state of siege be proclaimed, but that it was only thought of when the prefect of the city of Messina had informed him that looting had begun on a large scale.

ATTACKED BY NEGRO IN HEART OF CITY

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 10.—In the most fashionable district of this city today, Miss Marie Louise Stumpf, 19 years of age, daughter of E. A. Stumpf, a business man, was attacked by Charles Gillespie, a negro.

The negro was arrested and will be given a hearing as soon as Miss Stumpf is able to appear before the special jury.

When the crime became known there was a demonstration, which was soon dispelled by the prompt action of Judge Witte, who announced that the negro would be given a speedy trial.

Professor a Suicide.
TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 10.—Clark Tandy, professor of Greek and Latin at the Lawrence Preparatory school, committed suicide late last night by shooting himself. He was a graduate of the University of Kentucky and of Oxford university, being a Rhodes scholar at the latter institution until June 1927. He was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi honor society. Professor Tandy was a resident of Hopkinton, Ky.

TILLMAN BILLED FOR HOT RETORT

South Carolina Senator Will Reply to Charges Made by President.

IN CONNECTION WITH LAND DEAL IN OREGON

Dissatisfaction Expressed Because of Manner of Making Matter Public.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—No subject has been discussed recently at the capitol with such fervor as President Roosevelt's disclosure of Senator Tillman's alleged connection with an Oregon land deal, but the colleagues of the South Carolinian are inclined to withhold judgment until he has an opportunity to explain. He will address the Senate tomorrow.

Many expressions of dissatisfaction are heard because of the manner in which the president made public the material gathered by postoffice inspectors about Senator Tillman. It is pointed out by senators that the matter was not brought to the president in response to the latter's request to the heads of the executive department for a statement of the operations of the secret service, as the investigation of Senator Tillman's alleged efforts to obtain Oregon lands was wholly under the postoffice department, and was prosecuted by the inspectors of that department. One Senate leader expressed the opinion that as the president had had in his possession for several months the information gathered about Senator Tillman, it was his duty to investigate a prosecution if he believed the facts warranted action.

Statement of President.
It was rumored today that the president had told a friend that an effort was made by Senators Hale and Aldrich to suppress the facts about Senator Tillman. Undoubtedly this impression was gained at the White House by a visit to the president by Mr. Hale, who suggested that the matter relating to Mr. Tillman should be withdrawn. It is said that the Maine senator did not have the request upon the ground that it was not properly a reply to the demand for information about the secret service, but because of the fact that Senator Tillman is in poor health, and the charge was liable to rouse him to a pitch of excitement dangerous to his life.

President Roosevelt declined to withdraw the reference to Mr. Tillman, and when Senator Hale would not make it public he decided to do so himself. There is no question that Senator Tillman's health is bad. When he went to Europe last March he was in a highly nervous state. The trip resulted in a marked improvement, but his friends have noticed that his nervousness was returning. Some of the senators who have examined the evidence say the offense was one of imprudence and indiscretion, but that no criminality is involved. It was said that Mr. Tillman might have introduced his resolution calling upon the department of justice to begin proceedings to compel a sale of the Oregon lands at $2.50 an acre in accordance with the original land grant and at the same time apply for some of the land without making himself the target of criticism.

Feature of Disclosure.
Tomorrow the feature of the disclosure will be the appearance of an effort to hide the fact that he was an applicant for nine quarter-sections under the terms of the original grant. In his statement last February the senator said he had not bought any western land, nor has he "undertaken to buy any."

The evidence submitted by the president shows that prior to this statement Senator Tillman had made application for nine quarter-sections. Defending himself against the appearance of having made a misleading statement, Senator Tillman told his friends today that he has not "contracted" to buy any land, and that the whole case against him had been built upon an interpretation placed upon the word "undertaken."

SPECIAL EMBASSADOR IS LEAVING FOR HOME

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Tang Shao Yi, special Chinese ambassador to the United States, whose special mission in Washington has been cut short by orders from Peking, left today for Springfield, Mass. He sails on January 13 for home, by way of Europe.

Last night about ten of the attaches left for the Pacific coast, whence they will sail for Hong Kong after part of the month. By the end of the week, according to the present plans, the embassy will be closed.

On reaching London the special ambassador will be met by half a dozen employees in mid-Pacific, both natives and Americans, have raised a fund of $125 for the relief of Italian earthquake sufferers. This sum was the proceeds of a concert and vaudeville show given at the naval academy, and has been sent to the National Red Cross at Washington.

Guam to the Front.
GUAM, Jan. 10.—Residents of the little island of Guam, in mid-Pacific, both natives and Americans, have raised a fund of $125 for the relief of Italian earthquake sufferers. This sum was the proceeds of a concert and vaudeville show given at the naval academy, and has been sent to the National Red Cross at Washington.

MOTIVE FOR KILLING IS STILL MYSTERY

No Tangible Clue Yet Disccovered as to Missing Minister.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 10.—Motive for the killing of Gideon Browning, whose dismembered body was almost completely burned in the Rattle Run church stove, is still lacking. Rev. J. H. Carmichael, the missing minister, was reported during last night and today to have been seen in Wisconsin and Indiana. The report that he was carrying $8000 of insurance has proved incorrect. He had only $3000 of insurance, and it is said part of this was fraternal and void in case of suicide.

Shortly before the murder the minister had ordered all the lamps of the church filled with oil. It had been customary to use only part of the lamps and those not used regularly had not been filled for a long time. His directions were followed, but since the murder the oil has been found to be low in many of the lamps. As the lights had not been used at all in regular services since the last filling, the theory has been advanced that oil from the lamps was emptied into the stove to hasten the cremation of the body of Gideon Browning.

Search Is Fruitless.
CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Every place where it was thought Rev. Mr. Carmichael might be hiding in Chicago was searched by the police today, without success. The Chicago police have concluded that Carmichael went beyond Chicago if he came this far.

Answers Description.
TORONTO, Jan. 10.—A demented man, answering the description of Rev. Mr. Carmichael, wanted at Rattle Run, Mich., was found late tonight wandering on the Canadian Pacific tracks near Clarendon, about twenty-five miles east of Toronto. He was locked up.

SECRET SERVICE COSTS GOVERNMENT LARGE SUM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Representative Tammey of Minnesota said today that the resolution introduced in the house providing for the appointment of a special committee of five to investigate the inspection methods of the government does not contemplate, as has been stated, an inquiry concerning the operations of the secret service.

His desire is to arrive at the facts concerning the appointment of special agents and inspectors aside from the secret service bureau.

Mr. Tammey points out the fact that while in 1896 only 166 of such employees were carried on the roll at a cost of $1,300,000, by 1907 the number had grown to 3000 and the expense to the government to $9,000,000.

BAKHTIARI TRIBEMEN ISSUE A PROCLAMATION

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—A dispatch received from Teheran says the leader of the Bakhtiari tribesmen has occupied Isfahan and issued a proclamation calling upon the people to elect representatives to an independent legislature.

Prince Firman Firman, in command of the government troops, will be sent against Isfahan. The situation there is regarded as most serious. The secession of Isfahan is considered as final and the political status there is similar to that at Tabriz.

INTERESTING FIGHT IS ON IN INDIANA

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 10.—With the legislative caucus to choose a successor to United States Senator James A. Hemenway two days away, six aspirants for the place are making a stubborn fight.

John W. Kern and L. E. Slack are making claims of a heavy vote on the first few ballots. Before Shively, Edward G. Hoffman, G. V. Menzies and John E. Lamb hold that Kern or Slack must win on the first two or three ballots if they win at all.

The legislature is Democratic on joint ballot and the senator chosen January 19 will be the first senator of that political faith from Indiana in eighteen years.

Only a limited number of copies of the great New Year's edition of The Tribune now remain. The sale has been tremendous, and all persons desiring copies should get them at once. They may be had for 10 cents at The Tribune office, or will be mailed to any part of the United States for 15 cents, or to any foreign country for 20 cents.

YOUNG BOY CHARGED WITH ROBBERY BANK

JOPLIN, Mo., Jan. 10.—Charged with looting the Noel State bank of Noel, McDonald county, forty miles south of here, Oliver P. Billings, aged 16, was arrested here today by Sheriff Tom Carnell, after a five weeks' chase.

The tot entered the bank through a rear window while Cashier Kissler was at his noonday meal, and looted the cash drawer of its entire contents, $92. Out of proportion to his precious years, the boy, in his confession, bragged of taking the money and hiding it under a set of wagon seats.

The boy stated he was given a nickel by a man to execute the burglary. This is scouted by Sheriff Carnell.

UNCLE SAM'S SHIPS ARRIVE AT NAPLES

Special Squadron Sent With Relief for Sufferers Now in Port.

NAPLES, Jan. 10.—The United States battleship Connecticut arrived here today. Her sister ships of the Connecticut class, the Vermont, Kansas and Minnesota, accompanied the Connecticut to Messina, but did not come to Naples. They proceeded to Valfranche, where they are due tomorrow.

Owing to the fact that the whole country is in mourning, no salutes were fired. The sailors manned the sides of the Connecticut and flags were dipped. Ambassador Grisctoni was on board.

The Italian admiral and port officers visited the Connecticut to pay their respects to Rear-Admiral Sperry and express appreciation for American sympathy and aid. Admiral Sperry will return the call to the Duke of Aosta and other officers tomorrow.

The trip from Messina was uneventful. A sharp rain squall, accompanied by blinding flashes of lightning, came up just when the Connecticut was leaving, and as it was already dark she picked her way out of the straits with the aid of her searchlights, soundings being made constantly from the forward chains. The weather improved, however, and the run was made in seventeen hours.

The other battleships, after passing the straits, were instructed by wireless to proceed directly to Valfranche, Admiral Sperry may go to Rome to pay his respects to the king.

Already many Italians in the United States are applying for transportation for their relatives in Sicily and Calabria, and while it is thought that the relief could not be better employed than in aiding the homeless refugees to make a new start in life in America, there are legal complications which might have to be settled in Washington.

REV. HORACE WESTWOOD DEPOSED FOR HERESY

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—On a charge of heresy, Rev. Horace Westwood has been deposed without hearing from his assignment as pastor of the Edison Park M. E. church. The action was taken by the district superintendent after a conference with Bishop McDowell without formal complaint of the congregation. The minister had tendered his resignation, to take effect January 24.

Mr. Westwood, who is 24 years old, admitted today that he believed in church teachings had come to include some things which the Bible did not intend to include. He denied that he had ever given public utterances to his opinion. Mr. Westwood was connected with the Garrett Biblical institute.

About a month ago he received an offer of a scholarship from the Meadville (Pa.) Theological seminary and resigned his charge here to accept it. Garrett Biblical institute is part of Northwestern university.

Diaz Attends Bull Fight.
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—President Diaz and his cabinet today attended a bull fight for the benefit of the Italian earthquake sufferers. Thirty-five thousand dollars in gold was netted.

Strike Is Urged.
HONOLULU, Jan. 10.—The Japanese newspaper Jiji, in a violent editorial today, advised plantation laborers to strike at once for higher wages.

SILENCE OF TAFT INCITING GOSSIP

Much Speculation as to Who Will Fill Remaining Places in Cabinet.

BALLINGER OF CALIFORNIA THOUGHT TO HAVE CINCH

Hoyt Is Being Mentioned in Connection With Attorney-Generalship.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The decision of President-elect Taft to refrain from making public the names of the men he has selected to be members of his cabinet, with the exception of Senator Knox and Frank H. Hitchcock, has had the effect of inciting much gossip. Senator Knox, on his return from Augusta yesterday, rather grimly hinted that any candidate who either personally or through his friends betrayed the confidence of the president-elect might find that after all he was not on the list, and this statement may have some effect in restraining cabinet talk by people who are really advised.

George W. Wickersham, the New York lawyer and legal partner of Henry Taft, the president-elect's brother, has been mentioned in connection with the attorney generalship. But it should be remembered that Senator Knox is a potent influence with the president-elect and that he has a feeling of the highest regard and admiration for the abilities of Solicitor General Hoyt, with whom he was on intimate relations during his own occupancy of the office of attorney general. It easily may be believed that he would urge Hoyt's selection, if it developed that Wickersham's appointment was found to be inexpedient from the very fact of his business connection with the president-elect's brother.

Ballinger Is Sated.
The fact being conceded that the Pacific coast is to be represented in the new cabinet causes great weight to be given to the suggestion that Richard A. Ballinger is to be the lucky man, and his name has been connected with the secretaryship of the interior, though it is well known that the Pacific coast people would prefer that the naval portfolio be given to a man of their important navy yard interests.

Because of the feeling that there should be a Jew in the cabinet, Secretary Strauss's friends believe he will be strongly urged in his case, the president-elect is said to have said that he does not propose to consider any man's religion or creed in constructing his cabinet; that he intended to look rather to the desirability of a man.

This has gone far toward strengthening the candidacy of Charles Nagel of St. Louis for the secretaryship of commerce and labor. It is believed that Nagel is already under consideration, and being asserted that such an appointment would go far toward landing Missouri safely in the column of Republican states hereafter.

May Relieve Wilson.
The discovery that Secretary Wilson had already succeeded in establishing a record of longevity of service as a cabinet officer has weakened what appeared to be the stronghold he had upon his present position.

Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, is the only person named in regard to the agricultural portfolio in the event that Secretary Wilson leaves.

Having been named as secretary of war when William H. Taft was the certain choice of the people as president and presumably by his advice, General Luke E. Wright seems almost certain to retain his position in the new cabinet, though it is understood that his incumbency will not be long.

Postmaster General McVey would like to be President Taft's secretary of the treasury, but the friends of former Governor Herriek of Ohio have presented his claims with such ability as to make him a formidable candidate for that position. Other names advanced in connection with the treasury are those of James B. Furgan and John J. Mitchell, Chicago bankers, and John W. Barr, president of a trust company in Louisville.

CONGRESSMAN JONES MAY SUCCEED ANKENY

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 10.—The Washington legislature, which convenes tomorrow, probably will elect Congressman Wesley L. Jones of North Yakima to succeed Levi Ankeny in the United States senate, in accordance with the Republican party's choice as expressed in the primaries. The Republicans control the legislature.

The procedure in Washington differs from that in Oregon. In Washington the people express their choice for the senatorship in the party primaries. In Oregon the people express their choice in the party primaries and the candidates thus nominated are voted upon at the succeeding general election.

Proposed legislation for this session of the legislature includes local option bills, an anti-race track crusade and other reform measures.

Relief Ship Arrives.
REGGIO, Jan. 11.—The American relief ship Bayern arrived here today, escorted by the supply ship Culgoa. The Bayern has installed a wireless telegraph system and is in this way able to communicate with her escort.

Blizzard Is Raging.
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 10.—Following a drop in temperature of twenty degrees, a blizzard set in tonight with no signs of abatement.

Taft Attends Church.
AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 10.—President-elect Taft attended the St. James Methodist Episcopal church this morning and went for an automobile ride this afternoon. Timothy L. Woodruff of New York arrived tonight.

LEGISLATIVE MILL READY TO GRIND

Power Will Be Turned on at Noon Today, and the Wheels Will Revolve.

EX-PRESIDENT LOVE WILL PUSH BUTTON IN SENATE

In the House, Chief Clerk Buchanan Will Perform a Like Service.

At 12 o'clock noon today the eighth session of the legislature of Utah will convene in the joint building. The senate will be called to order by Stephen H. Love, president of the senate during the seventh assembly. A roll call of the senate will follow, after which the oath of office will be administered by Chief Justice Straup. The official chaplain will then deliver an invocation and the senate will be presented. In view of the fact that the senate is composed entirely of Republicans, the election of Senator Gardner as president probably will be by acclamation.

After the election of the president, senate resolution No. 1 will be introduced. This will set forth that the persons named by the caucus on Saturday night be the regular officers of the senate. When the resolution is adopted the oath of office will be administered by Chief Justice Straup. The official chaplain will then deliver an invocation and the senate will be presented. In view of the fact that the senate is composed entirely of Republicans, the election of Senator Gardner as president probably will be by acclamation.

Proceedings in the House.
The house will be called to order at noon by Chief Clerk Buchanan. The eighth session of the house of representatives, Alexander Buchanan, Jr., a call of the roll will follow and similar proceedings to those in the senate will follow. Except that the Democratic minority consisting of two may nominate a list of officers to be chosen. Adjournment will then take place until Tuesday.

Gov. Spry's message will not be read today, and it may not be read until Wednesday. The finishing touches will be put upon the document in all probability today, and if so it will not doubt be transmitted to the legislature on Tuesday, when the senate and house will meet in joint session.

SUNDAY GOSSIP WITH SOLONS IN CORRIDORS OF HOTELS

The members of the legislature who were in the hotel lobbies Sunday night were few and scattering, and while some of them were not averse to discussing prospective subjects of legislation some, however, thought it was premature until the message of the governor had been read.

Orville L. Thompson, however, thought that one of the chief items of the most important subject, that will come before the eighth legislature is the question of prohibition. "It is the paramount issue in Utah this year," he said, "and it will come up early in the session." Another matter Representative Thompson hopes to see the subject of legislation is a measure for the erection of a state capital in keeping with the state motto, "In God We Trust." A few years will have a battleship sailing the seas bearing the name of Utah and the flag of the union.

Francis Nielson, member of the house from San Juan, thinks prohibition is inevitable at this session and will support the measure if it is presented. As to the state capital, he is reluctant to express his opinion until after he learns what the governor's message has to say upon the subject. He thinks, however, that it is too good a subject to neglect for Utah in the present session. "The state hasn't money or lands enough for that yet," he said.

Senator John H. Seabee of Sanpete does not think any prohibition legislation is necessary; that there is plenty of authority vested in city councils and town boards to regulate the liquor traffic if they would but elect the right kind of men and men who would enforce the laws now in existence. If a community is unfortunate enough to have a saloon there is a nuisance and a menace to the morals of the community there is no power so effective in correcting the mischief as the exercising of the prerogative of the body that granted the license under which it is operating, and revoking the license. "Let the corporate councils of these towns and cities do half their duty and the objectionable features of the liquor traffic are removed," he said. "Let prohibition rest this session and agitate better supervision by municipal governments; let the latter enforce to the letter the laws that are on their hands and the cry of prohibition will never again be heard in this state."

Senator Seabee and Representative Hammond were in the legislature the advisability of re-establishing the scalp bounty law. The reasons for this are that the sheep industry alone is valued in Utah at $14,000,000. Not less than 6 per cent of the sheep each year are the victims of coyotes and wolves, the latter having multiplied at an alarming rate in the last three years, so that the sheep industry of the state of Utah pays to these brutes each year the sum of $84,000 in good money. The scalp bounty is the only immediate remedy against the sheep industry for the state to pay for the scalps of coyotes, wolves and cats of all kinds. Seabee stated that the Wilson Sunday night that up in Rich the large gray
